Mr. William E. Colby
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C., 20505

Dear Mr. Colby:

People will be talking enthusiastically about the Harvard Business School Club's visit to the CIA for months. I have had an unusually large number of calls and letters ... all complimentary about your remarks and the reception in general.

I guess we'd have to say the interaction humanized the image. I hope that you and your staff feel that the reward justifies the risk.

Many thanks to you and all the CIA members whose cooperation and spirit made the evening such a success.

Sincerely,

Betty Ten Eyck
